

Amador Park commission

Kids' monument to the arts

PLEASANTON—A 50-year-old sculptor from Castro Valley and a group of youngsters from the Ark Nursery School will combine their artistic talents to create a monument in the front yard of the Cultural Arts Center at Amador Park.

The sculptor, R.A. Miller, met with city officials Thursday to coordinate plans for the monument. Miller will supervise the children in their artistic contributions which will consist primarily of art transferred to metal plates and mounted on the tall pylons of the sculpture.

The monument will consist of many wooden poles and rusted steel beams of varied heights. Miller will put his talent to work on creating various effects with the materials, including a variety of openings in the steel beams to give a pleasing design.

Miller discussed the symbolism behind the many pylons or obelisks of the sculpture, which is expected to be dedicated in ceremonies on Labor Day.

"The obelisk has been a prime influence on this sculpture," said Miller. "Man has used the obelisk as a representation of his reach to the stars, of his struggle upward in evolution, of his continuous surge toward better education, and his obligation to his fellow man."

"This sculpture has been divided into two parts," he said. "The first represents nature's eternal effort in reaching upward with harmonious balance. The second part is a half sphere adorned with foliage representing the earth. Out of the sphere rises two rectangular spires sculptured by man to house the innocent impressions of his most valuable heritage, his children."

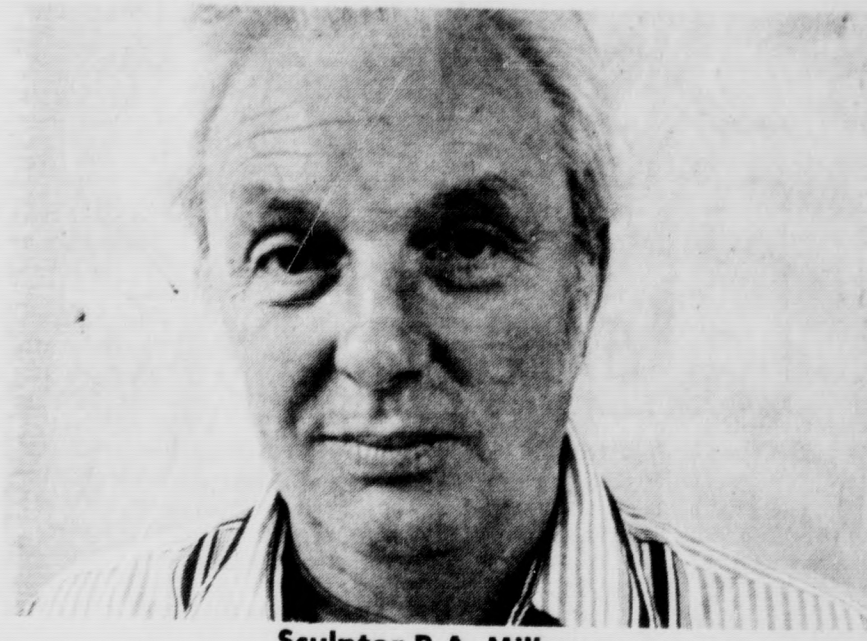

The financing of the project has been accomplished by federal funding through ACTEB and the Ark School, said Miller.

Miller makes his living primarily through art, including teaching art in adult school in Castro Valley and serving as a design consultant to various firms. He works in all media and paints as well as sculpts.

Miller was chosen on the basis of his portfolio against competition from 500 other artists. He attended art schools in the East and in San Francisco.

Miller will approach utility companies to ask for donation of the tall wooden poles needed in the monument and hopes that a steel company will donate the necessary steel beams or perhaps sell them to him at cost. Any firm or individual who wishes to help him out with materials can reach Miller at 538-1074.

Here comes Pony Express

With one hand on reins and the other on mail pouch, Pony Express rider heads across open field enroute to Alamo Sunday. Four teams of riders from Bay Area horsemen's associations recreated Pony Express-of-old, starting race following brief ceremonies at Pleasanton Chamber of Commerce offices. Riders each rode a mile before exchanging mail bags. Mail, containing more than 2,000 letters, was hand - cancelled at Alamo Post Office. Barbecue and street dance followed. Route took riders through Pleasanton, Arroyo del Valle, Hopyard Road, county roads around Dublin to Danville and Alamo. (Times photo)

Raymond responds to Murphy

Valerie Raymond lashed back at Alameda County Supervisor John D. Murphy last week, charging the incumbent supervisor's mid-week press conference "appears to be motivated more by politics than statesmanship."

Responding to Murphy's charges that she has shown a lack of leadership by not taking a stand in the county's three-week-old employees' strike, Raymond said she has "stayed out of this issue until now because it is not my wish to complicate matters by political rhetoric ... the important thing right now is for both sides to stop playing games and get down to serious negotiations, around - the - clock if necessary, to achieve a fair resolution of the conflict."

She charged Murphy with "posturing around trying to make a political football out of a difficult situation," and suggested her opponent "help to defuse the situation by temporarily moving his office out of the Fair buildings until the strike is settled."

Best effort yet at safeguarding homes against forced entry

PLEASANTON — New homes being constructed at Pleasanton Valley, a Morrison Homes development at Valley Trails and Hopyard, now include burglar prevention devices throughout each unit and thus become the first houses to meet police standards as burglar - resistant.

According to Detective Jim Balch, a Pleasanton police officer and member of Pleasanton - Livermore's cooperative Strategic Team Enforcement Program (STEP), homes at Pleasanton Valley can now be expected to withstand most ordinary attempts at forced entry.

Working closely with members of the STEP team, Morrison Homes representatives upgraded existing locks and window latches to those considered most burglar - resistant by police.

Beginning at the garage, a burglar trying to force open the large garage door will find two locks — the standard keylock and doorhandle combination, and a sliding two-position bolt through which a padlock can be secured. The sliding bolt insures that the large door cannot be pushed from side to side, which could pull the doorhandle lock mechanism from its mounting, Balch says.

Double - doors at the front are secured by two deadbolt latches, in addition to a keylocking doorknob. The deadbolt virtually eliminates prying the door, while a simple twist of the doorknob from inside automatically disengages the deadbolt, allowing for quick exit in case of emergency.

The front door also contains a 180-degree "fish-eye" viewer, giving an unobstructed view of the entire porch in all directions.

Every window in the house is fitted with a simple vertical - throw latch, and while keyless for convenience, gives utmost security due to a hook mechanism that secures the window from being forced.

Large glass patio doors (some models have two sets, one downstairs leading to the backyard, the second from the master bedroom to a balcony) are secured by the typical keylock latch at the frame, but with a reinforced steel striker plate removing the chance of prying the door from the frame. A secondary sliding bolt with keylock is located at the bottom to further discourage

City disclaims liability

Fallon lawsuit pending

PLEASANTON — The Dublin Historical Society is eyeing a possible law suit against the city over the burning of Fallon House, but city officials feel there is no liability on the city's part.

The historical society wants the city to contribute money to construction of a replica of the historic 100 year old house, feeling that there is at least a moral obligation to make some restitution.

The old house was burned mistakenly by the valley - wide firefighters training organization and some Pleasanton fire officials refused to stop the burn despite pleas from several passersby who knew they had the wrong house.

The historical society claims that since it already had grants for restoration of the old house and had put up "no trespassing" signs on the house, it believed it had possession, historical society attorney Ernie Pierucci told The Times.

But Stoneson Corporation owned the house all along and never even made a verbal promise to the historical society that it would wind up with ownership, said Councilman William Herlihy.

Since it was Stoneson's house when it was burned, it's doubtful the historical society would have legal standing to sue, said Councilwoman Joyce LeClaire.

LeClaire agrees with Herlihy that the city should not be expected to give the historical society any money for the Fallon House replica.

LeClaire felt that the community should organize a fund - raising effort to build the model house. There just aren't enough tax funds to go around for the city to make a contribution, she said.

"We're in the budget process now and trying to cut back. The budget has been cut to a bare bones level," said LeClaire.

Attorney Pierucci said the society will gather all the facts it can find and see whether or not they warrant a suit against the city.

"There were grants from the state specifically for renovation of Fallon House. The society obviously was under the impression they had a reasonable expectation for the house. Whether activities before the burn showed ownership (by the society), we'll have to recheck that."

The importance of the Fallon House was underscored when the National Historical Trust surveyed the house and found it to be a site of national importance because of the house itself and the importance of Jeremiah Fallon, who was a rescuer of the Donner Party and a valley pioneer, said Pierucci.

Violation cries Hall Pickets still could jeopardize race

The Alameda County Fair horse race meet may be jeopardized by striking county employees.

Officials of the striking Service Employees International Union (SEIU) yesterday claimed unionized track workers "have assured strikers that their members would not cross the picket lines."

Racing is scheduled to start next Monday afternoon and continue for 12 days through Saturday, July 10.

The Western Fairs Association had come to a contract settlement with the Horsemen's Benevolent and Protective Association (HBPA) a week ago Saturday after protracted negotiations. At that time it looked as though the horse racing would go on without a Fair.

Now the reverse may be true.

Striking county workers continued picketing the Fairgrounds in Pleasanton Monday in what Fair Association secretary - manager Lee Hall claimed was a violation of a court order.

"The pickets are not observing the court order restricting them to informational picketing, and they are stopping all union people from coming in," Hall said.

"But the Fair will go on regardless," he added.

The latter decision was made Friday noon after a meeting of the County Fair Association Board of Directors. Earlier, presiding Superior Court Judge Robert Barber had signed an injunction preventing pickets from stopping workers from entering the Fairgrounds to accomplish pre-fair projects.

Shirley Campbell of the striking SEIU said the pickets were following the advice of union attorneys. "Other unions in Alameda County simply are honoring our picket lines," she said.

Over the weekend as two unsuccessful negotiating sessions were held in the strike by 3,000 county workers, Pacific Telephone Company installers and utility crews refused to cross Fairgrounds picket lines.

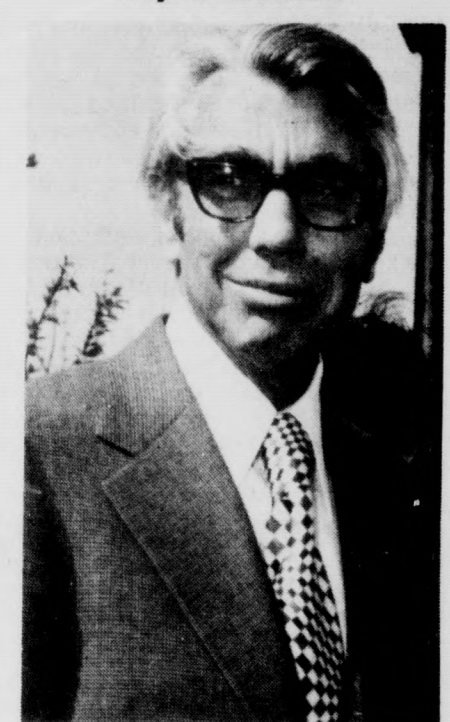

But Fair officials said supervisory personnel from the telephone company did enter the grounds to install telephones for the Fair which starts Sunday.

Among the key personnel at the track are the pari-mutuel clerks.

Hall had told a press conference Friday he would contact the California Horsemen's Association to learn their "reading" of Judge Barber's court order.

Meanwhile, preparations in other areas of the Fairgrounds were continuing, including the arrival of more carnival trucks with equipment for the Foley and Burke Shows.

Pedestrian bridge supported

DUBLIN — Support is mounting for a pedestrian overcrossing of Highway 680 in advance of a vehicle overpass or interchange for either Stoneridge or West Las Positas.

Murray School District Trustees received an update on the overcrossing - interchange situation from Don Savery, a Pleasanton resident, at last night's meeting.

At least two petitions have been circulated in recent days, one favoring a West Las Positas overcrossing gaining nearly 500 signatures.

West of 680 residents in the audience, however, spoke in opposition to a West Las Positas vehicle overcrossing, claiming it would add excessive and speeding traffic into a residential area.

One of the petitioners said many residents she spoke to would be in favor of the pedestrian crossing.

Savery reiterated that Caltrans doesn't really favor an interchange for Stoneridge because of its proximity to 580.

The Murray board, for its part, went on record favoring an overcrossing several years ago but has not indicated favor for one over the other.

Trustees also received a resource teachers' evaluation and adopted a resolution for acceptance of the Dolan site and final payment to McGuire and Hetsler.

Two youths injured after accident at drive-in movie

DUBLIN — Two Pleasanton youths lying in sleeping bags on the ground at the San Ramon Auto Movie Theater were injured Sunday night when a woman accidentally drove her car on top of one boy, and the second ran into her car while chasing it as it drove from the lot.

According to the Highway Patrol, Margaret Hartnell of San Leandro drove her car into the theater with its parking lights on, but turned them off as she neared the parking stalls. Hartnell apparently drove her car on top of one youth and stopped there as horrified onlookers attempted to wave her off. Apparently not understanding their excitement, she quickly drove off the youth and towards the lot exit.

The injured youth's brother then ran after the car and somehow collided with it, receiving minor injuries. The woman drove off but returned shortly, the spokesman said.

Injured were Terry Joel Marcello, 15, and his brother, Anthony Michael, 11, both of Komandorski Village in Pleasanton. Terry was treated for minor injuries and released, while Anthony remains in the hospital in satisfactory condition.

The case is still under investigation.

Woman gets stuck on tracks, arrested by police

PLEASANTON — A 37-year-old Pleasanton woman who drove her car onto railroad tracks on St. John St. early Saturday was arrested after refusing to leave the vehicle, even though its frame was stuck on the tracks.

Officer Bill Coble observed the stranded motorist about 2:40 a.m. Saturday and stopped to help, but the woman refused to give her name or leave the car. After finally being convinced to exit the stranded car, she grabbed onto the doorhandle and again refused to leave.

After a brief scuffle in which Coble received kicks and scratches, the woman was handcuffed and carried bodily to the patrol car, where she continued to resist, kicking the doors of the car. Coble removed the woman's shoes and returned to the abandoned vehicle.

Police used jumper cables to short out the track, automatically sending an alert to any oncoming trains that the route was blocked. A tow truck arrived and removed the car, and no trains were stopped or delayed by the incident.

Arrested was Diane Koberle of 2464 Crestline Way in Pleasanton. She was booked on suspicion of being drunk in public and resisting police.

Burglars hit Yosemite Drive home Friday

LIVERMORE — Burglars opened a rear bedroom window to a Yosemite Drive home early Friday and stole $700 in stereo gear before a sleeping resident awoke, saw a man kneeling at her bedside and screamed, sending the man running from the home with the woman's husband in hot pursuit.

According to police, burglars removed a rear window screen and opened an unlocked window to gain entrance to Milton and Rita Basnett's home. They then removed a $300 Empire brand turntable and $400 Altec brand receiver. A purse belonging to the Basnetts' daughter was also rifled, but with no apparent loss.

Mrs. Basnett told police she awoke about 4:55 a.m. to see a man kneeling beside her bed. Her screams sent the man running through the front door with Mr. Basnett not far behind. A neighbor reported seeing a man matching the suspect's description run through his backyard and jump a fence leading into an Everglades Avenue patio.

Police lifted one fingerprint from inside the home. The case is under investigation.

Motorcyclist injured in solo accident Sunday

LIVERMORE — A 22-year-old Fremont man remains in serious condition in the intensive care unit of Valley Memorial Hospital after he lost control of his cycle, slammed into a cement island and was thrown 60 feet.

Roger Dean Delaplane of Fremont was reported at the scene of the accident to have suffered blunt head trauma, facial fractures, lacerations and a concussion, police reported.

According to reports, Delaplane was travelling northbound on North Livermore Avenue Sunday night when he apparently lost control of the cycle. Two witnesses say they saw the cycle strike a cement traffic island, hit a reflector stand and one-way marker and throw Delaplane 60 feet through the air onto the roadway.

He was rushed to Valley Memorial Hospital, where doctors took a blood sample and reported that Delaplane was under "acute alcohol intoxication," police reported.

Which way to Noname Street?

Sausalito has its No Name Bar and Pleasanton has its No Name Intersection.

In Sausalito's case, the No Name was planned, but much to the grief of Pleasanton and other local street departments, the decapitation of local street signs is not planned.

Pleasanton's no name intersection is really First and Abbie Streets, at least until a road crew can get out and replace it. A small thing, perhaps, to a local resident, but not to the tourist who needs that street sign to know he or she is on Abbie Street, not Bernal Avenue which is the different name for the same street a half block away.

The vandals in question may not be taking sadistic pleasure in misguiding tourists, but they sure do cost the city money.

There were no estimates available for Dublin and Pleasanton in terms of tourist who needs that street sign to know he or she is on Abbie Street, not Bernal Avenue which is the different name for the same street a half block away.

The vandals in question may not be taking sadistic pleasure in misguiding tourists, but they sure do cost the city money.

There were no estimates available for Dublin and Pleasanton in terms of tourist who needs that street sign to know he or she is on Abbie Street, not Bernal Avenue which is the different name for the same street a half block away.

ent Carl Carlin estimated vandals wreak about $300 to $400 worth of havoc each month on local post signs and street markers.

"Of course, that's just an average," said Carlin. "Last month the bill was over $1,000 because it cost more to replace a flood control channel gate which was vandalized last month. Those were steel gates. They threw one in the channel and took the other one."

Carlin has worked for the city for 10 years and he has noticed a big difference in losses over the years.

"We receive more phone calls about vandalism in two weeks now than we did in a whole year 10 years ago," he said. "It's not the population increase, because there hasn't been that much. I think it's a complete change in moral values."

"For example, we've had to put three strands of barbed wire on top of the six foot chain link fence around our corporation yard and put locking gas caps on all our vehicles because they were siphoning the gas out. Our newest truck was jacked up and they took off two wheels and tires."

"Ten years ago, we didn't bother to take the keys out of the trucks. We'd leave them there for the next morning. Now I have strict rules to report to the city manager anyone who leaves keys in the vehicles."

Yield signs and stop signs have been disappearing to youths who think it's hip to have them in their bedrooms, said Carlin. Others disappear or are disfigured out of "just plain malicious mischief," he said.

"I guess they are just getting back at the establishment," said Carlin. How else do you explain $3,000 worth of damage at the Livermore Area Recreation and Park District offices? To me it's unexplainable. The street department reported someone breaking 25 saplings on Concannon Boulevard," said Carlin.

An Alameda County Road Department spokesman said that theft of signs is almost nil, but they do suffer from vandalism.

"They get hit pretty good on Tesla, Greenville, Vasco Roads, especially after a football game. They just take something and knock them over. The signs are usually mounted on a four by four redwood post," said the spokesman.

In Pleasanton, Traffic Engineer Ken Lamb guessed that stop signs may be the biggest item among the missing. He couldn't explain the phenomenon, either, except to say that people who steal them must think they are collectors' items.

Bus service, sports cut from schools?

If the proposed cuts advanced by Superintendent Bruce Newlin to the Pleasanton school board are any criteria, Amador district trustees may be faced with a reduction in school bus service and elimination of funds for athletics at tonight's special budget session.

Trustees will convene at 7:30 p.m. at the district offices, 123 Main St., Pleasanton.

The budget cuts are necessitated by a defeat of the district's proposed revenue limit increase measure.

Earlier, Amador district trustees reviewed several areas for reduction and/or elimination. These areas were contained in a "fact sheet" released by the district May 20.

They included (1) extending the walking area an additional one-fourth mile, (2) eliminating all district funds for support of athletics and extracurricular activities (music, drama, speech, etc.), (3) no new hires for growth — which would cause an increase in class size, (4) reduction of funds for school supplies and materials, (5) reduction of custodial services by one-third, (6) elimination of towel service, and (7) placing a hold on electronics and graphic arts at Foothill High School.

In a similar budget session Thursday, Newlin listed 15 primary and secondary items that could be cut. They included:

5½ full-time equivalent teaching positions (though no layoffs or dismissals would be necessitated), early retirement — $5,000, uniforms for custodial personnel — $9,722, Outdoor Education — $7,067, elimination of relocatable building for Vintage Hills School — $10,600, towel service — $5,978, testing — $2,000, reduce district media center and library services — $10,000, eliminate instrumental music at K-5 level — $12,562, transportation cutbacks — $30,000.

The second priority cuts included the following:

School librarian position — $14,016, audio-visual contract — $8,726, school allocations by 10 per cent — $10,000, district office allocations by 10 per cent — $5,000, salary freeze on ALL salaries — $174,377.

The second level priority cuts would strip $222,119 from the tentative 1976-77 budget.

Third-level cuts include cutting of reserves by $20,000, teaching vice principal allocations by $60,536, medical ($27,280) and dental ($9,477) benefits.

Cancer patients need drivers

Summer — a time usually reserved for vacations and fun — is for many Valley residents a time to worry about where their next ride for vital cancer therapy is coming from.

These are the cancer patients who normally receive the benefit of the American Cancer Society's "Freewheelers" program which provides free rides to and from hospitals for Alameda County residents.

Mrs. Thelma Frink, volunteer transportation coordinator for the Livermore-Amador branch of the society, explains: "The summer is a critical time for our program because our regular drivers leave for vacations and we need additional volunteers to help maintain this essential program."

She adds, "We need drivers who own automobiles to spend maybe two hours for one day a week driving the person to the treatment facility, waiting for a few minutes and driving him or her back home."

"This might be ideal for students or teachers on summer break."

Patients who receive this valuable service would have no other way of getting to the hospital if not for the dedication of the corps of volunteers who serve as "Freewheelers."

She urges interested persons to join the men and women who help their neighbors by calling the Cancer Society, 357 - 1961.

Film classics benefit kids' safari

LIVERMORE — Six film classics are being brought to Livermore this summer as fundraisers for the Bicentennial Safari.

The Safari will take 40 Livermore teenagers on a 12-day tour of the East Coast to visit historical sites in Lexington, Concord, Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Washington, D.C. and Virginia. Upon their return, participants will share their experiences with their classmates to make the Bicentennial year more meaningful for everyone.

The film festival will be at the Livermore Recreation Center, Eighth and H Streets, 7:30 p.m. on Friday nights. Tickets are $1.50 for one, $7.50 for the series.

Here's the schedule:
JULY 2: Rebel Without a Cause. James Dean and Natalie Wood star. James Dean became a legend after this film was made. It dramatizes teenage pressures which can lead to violence. The story is timeless.

JULY 30: The Belles of St. Trinians. Alastair Sim and Joyce Grenfell star in this comedy classic in which Alastair Sim portrays both the headmistress of a collection of zany

JULY 16: The Spiral Staircase. Dorothy McGuire, Ethel Barrymore, George Brent star in this classic suspense film, one of Alfred Hitchcock's finest achievements. A series of murders have taken place in a small American town in the early 1900's...Who will be the next victim?

AUG. 7: The Howards of Virginia. Cary Grant, Sir Cedric Hardwicke and Martha Scott dramatize the marriage of a backwoodsman and a Virginia aristocrat that is strained by conflicting loyalties as the Colonies rebel against England. The film recreates Colonial Virginia before and during the Revolution.

AUG. 13: Stagecoach. John Wayne and Thomas

students in an English boarding school and her brother, a bookmaker par excellence.

AUG. 21: The Producers. Zero Mostel and Gene Wilder star in this wild, off-beat comedy by Mel Brooks. A theatrical producer decides to make his fortune by convincing little old ladies to back a show that will be a sure-fire theatrical disaster.

Mitchell are featured in the film that made Wayne a star as a notorious gunman on an Overland stage crossing hostile Indian territory. This classic Western was directed by the inimitable John Ford.

Have your dog vaccinated against rabies this Sunday, June 27, at one of five immunization clinics in Alameda County.

Rabies clinics all over county

The Pleasanton clinic for Valley residents was already held (June 6) but dogs may be brought to the following clinics: City animal shelter, 2043 Grand St., Alameda; Central Park Service Center, 39800 Paseo Padre Parkway, Fremont; Mosswood Park, 3612 Webster St., Oakland; County animal shelter, 2700 Fairmont Drive, San Leandro; or Kennedy Memorial Park, 1383 Decoto Road, Union City.

Hours are 2 - 5 p.m. and cost is $2 for the vaccine. Shots will be administered by local veterinarians who volunteer their time.

Dogs must be brought to the clinic by someone at least 12 years old. All dogs over four months of age are required by law to be immunized against rabies every two years, since the disease is prevalent in Alameda County wildlife.

Dr. Stewart B. Gross, county health officer, complimented the Alameda County Veterinary Medical Association and the Health Care Services Agency for sponsoring the clinics to help the county extend its 22-year record of no rabies reported in dogs.

The disease, says Gross, is almost always fatal to dogs and to humans bitten by infected dogs or wild animals.

Dublin man sponsoring 13-year-old Israeli

DUBLIN — Jeff Kauffman of 713 Manor Drive is one of 631 Americans who are helping children in Maalot and Tarshikha, two small Israeli communities.

Kauffman is sponsoring Hasnayith Kharuf, a 13-year-old Israeli girl, through Save the Children Federation, an organization with headquarters in Westport, Conn.

The project in Israel has resulted in completion of two public playgrounds and a mini-center for school age children. A committee of 40 planners from each village coordinate and implement activities with support from Save the Children.

Founded in 1932, SCF sponsors 32,000 children and aids more than 100,000 in Appalachia, on Indian reservations, inner cities, in the South and in many countries overseas.

The federation is a member of the International Union for Child Welfare, the American Council of Voluntary Agencies for Foreign Service and the International Council of Voluntary Agencies. Anyone interested in helping may write to the federation at Wilton Road, Dept. P, Westport, Conn.

Hareem

Pleasanton students tour with Cal

Two Pleasanton students are on tour this summer with the University of California marching band, which is traipsing across 10,000 miles and through 35 states as a Bicentennial celebration.

The Cal Band has been officially recognized as a Bicentennial Band and will perform July 6 on the steps of the White House.

Juniors Tim Abrott and Jim Gaston, both of Pleasanton, are performing with the band.

Abrott is a civil engineering student who graduated from Pleasanton School and Amador Valley High School.

Gaston is an English major.

The Cal Band's six-week tour concludes July 31 when it performs on the Berkeley campus.

RIGHT NOW IT'S EASY TO OWN A TOUGH CHEVY LUV.

CHEVY LUV. OUR TOUGH, NEW, ECONOMY-SIZED HALF TONNER.

For all its compact size, Chevy LUV is a sure-enough half-ton pickup. Out back is a tough, roomy, steel pickup box that totes up to 1,190 lbs. of payload. Cargo tie-downs and easy-opening tailgate are standard. And for still more cargo space, the front seat back folds forward for easy access to a handy inside storage area. And that's not all there is to love about the new Series 5 LUV, introduced in January.

NEW MIKADO INTERIOR AVAILABLE. Includes new plaid cloth or knit vinyl upholstery, carpeting, leatherlike covered steering wheel and gearshift knob, dual tone horn and other nice touches.

NEW 3-SPEED AUTOMATIC TRANSMISSION.

GM's famous Turbo Hydra-matic transmission is now available with the T-handle selector pedestal-mounted on the floor. Or you can go with the 4-speed manual transmission with new short-throw shifting standard.

NEW SMOOTH RIDE. New large tires mounted on one-inch-wider rims. Redesigned rear springs. Torsion bar independent front suspension. New full-foam cushioned seats. They all contribute to LUV's new ride.

LUV RATES HIGH IN EPA MILEAGE TESTS, TOO.

In mileage tests published in the EPA Buyer's Guide, LUV is rated at 32 miles per gallon on the highway and 21 miles per gallon in the city—equipped with a manual transmission. Remember: these mileage figures are estimates. Mileage will vary depending on the type of driving, driving habits, truck's condition and available equipment.

You'll find LUV at your Chevy dealer's. Go see him soon.

Old Fashioned Days

PERT BUT OH-SO-MODEST BATHING SUIT from the turn of the century, with sailor collar and bloomers, was not really meant for swimming. Proper ladies splashed only. Jan Schweser carries a Red Cross uniform from World War I.

Dublin women reveled in nostalgia at a recent fair which was a beautiful prelude to the Nation's Bicentennial hosted by the garden section of the Women's Club of Dublin.

Highlight of the fair was an elaborate display of old-fashioned costumes generously loaned by Edith Monger, Shirley Anderson and Harriet Causey. Choice among the costumes of sumptuous lace, satin, velvet and chiffon was a 100-year-old gown worn by a young woman presented at court to Queen Victoria of England — hand-sewn in three pieces without fasteners.

Sentimentality reigned in exhibits of bobbin lace by Ina Letter, Quelling china painting, and memory boxes by Gloria Gossett. The Wayside Weavers and Spinners demonstrated ways in which women of the past spent much of their time making textiles. Hearts twinged at the romantic strains of the Dublin chapter choral group which earned top honors at a recent district convention of federated women's clubs.

The success of the fair and accompanying sale of plants, which garnered $400, has enabled the garden section of the Women's Club of Dublin to offer a $1,000 scholarship to a senior high school student of the Dublin-San Ramon area who plans to study conservation. Consistent with the club's commitment to education, the scholarship will be awarded in fall after eligibility requirements have been set and nominations solicited from Dublin and San Ramon Valley high schools.

MODISH UNEVEN HEMLINE drew attention to the daring exposure of legs in this 1917 'Flapper' costume in satin and lace modeled by Suzanne Anderson.

HIGH COUTURE FROM NEW YORK in taffeta and satin, trimmed with heavy lace and velvet, was this gown from a 1920 bridal trousseau modeled by Susiz Abernathy.

Dublin seniors convene

A full day at Art in the Vineyard

A PERFECT JUNE DAY AT THE CONCANNON VINEYARDS in Livermore saw thousands flock to the annual Art in the Vineyard show hosted by the Livermore Art Association. ## astrograph

For Tuesday, June 22, 1976
ARIES (March 21-April 19) Gains and losses can balance today if you use your head. Instead of worrying about your loss on peaches, try to pick it up on peaches.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Try not to jump to conclusions today. Other's views may have considerable merit if you'll take the time to listen.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Be selective as to who you confide in today. Don't waste time telling your troubles to one who can't possibly help you.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) The Golden Rule is more than just an old axiom. Expect to be treated in the same manner as you've treated others.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Chances are you'll have better luck today if you work through a clever intermediary. Select someone who knows the ropes.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Don't take credit today for ideas conceived by another. You may need this person's counsel later and you'd get only a stare of resentment.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Treat the property of others today as if it belonged to you. If you're careless, you'll probably have to make good out of your own pocket.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Guard against a tendency today to share with those who are less deserving than others.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Today you are innovative and imaginative, but you are also impatient. There's a good chance you'll push a bright idea prematurely.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Usually you play things close to the vest. Today, you may abandon caution and try to do something the same way as a more knowledgeable friend.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Keep pals and relatives out of your affairs today. Limit those with whom you share confidences to persons with an actual involvement.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Someone who is very fond of you will cover for you today. They'll repeat not what you said, but what you should have said.

Be willing to relinquish projects this coming year that have not been productive. Once you let go, new and better things will replace them.

By Oswald & James Jacoby

The rest of this week's articles will be by Jim Jacoby and will concern his early bridge experiences while his father was in Korea as a naval officer.

My first sectional win was in Shreveport. My partner, Phil Briggs, was a very good player, who quit tournament bridge completely due to business pressures.

I opened the queen of diamonds against South's three notrump contract and continued the suit after South ducked. He won the second diamond and led a spade. I put up my queen and was allowed to hold the trick. Later on South led a spade, finessed dummy's 10 and wound up with no spade tricks at all.

I was mighty proud of my play and it wasn't until some time later that Phil deflated me by pointing out that South could have made his contract plus at least one overtrick after my play, but that if I had simply played a low spade he would have been doomed to defeat.

For those of you readers who think Phil was mistaken the surefire defense was for me to play low and Phil to let dummy's 10 or jack hold that first spade trick.

Ask the Jacobys

A Minnesota reader asks: "I was vulnerable. My right hand opponent opened one heart and I bid two diamonds with:

♠ x x x A Q x x x ♦ A K x x x ♠ x x x ♠ x x x

"Was my bid very bad?" We would not say it was a very bad bid, but it certainly was doubtful. It is always dangerous to overcall at the two level with a five-card suit that only includes two high cards.

Tri-Valley in disputed 6-5 loss

SAN FRANCISCO — Losing a close baseball game is frustrating enough, but when it happens under controversial circumstances and the winning team is the defending Northern California champion the defeat is even harder to swallow.

That's what happened to the Tri-Valley Cubs here Sunday afternoon. The Cubs fell to the International Order of Forerunners 6-5 at Graham Field in Golden Gate Park.

The game was the first of two played on the field and the umpires said no inning would be started after 1:30 p.m. However the eighth inning ended after 1:30 (according to most observers) and the Cubs led 5-2. But the home plate umpire ordered another inning played because it still wasn't 1:30 on his watch. Despite protest from the Cub players the umpire held firm.

Then the roof fell in for the Cubs.

I.O.F. exploded for four runs in the bottom of the ninth to remain undefeated in league play.

Catcher Ron Black started the Falcon rally with a leadoff triple. Third baseman Don Bowles then drove Black in with a single to right field. Kevin Mitchell, the I.O.F. designated hitter, was hit by Cub starter John Prieto, and left fielder Boyd Harris smashed a single to score Bowles, with Mitchell advancing to second.

Cub coach John McCuaig

then replaced Prieto with Ed Kukahiko but the change failed to help Tri-Valley.

Center fielder Mark White belted another single, driving in Mitchell with the tying run and shortstop Fred Reid drove in the winning tally with a base hit to center.

"The extra inning call by the umpire ruined us," an angry McCuaig moaned after the contest.

"Everybody else said that it was past 1:30 before the last inning started."

Despite the defeat Prieto was outstanding, giving up right hits to the older, more experienced Falcons. He also belted two hits, one a fourth inning double that drove in two runs. That fourth inning blast gave the Cubs a 3-2 lead.

Tri-Valley added two more runs in the eighth stanza.

After Jim Florence and Bob More each flied out to center field, catcher Stan Wolfe smashed a single. Falcon pitcher Gary Fabiani, who relieved starter Ken Daley in the fifth, then proceeded to walk Steve Krekel, Bob Chapman and Carl Speck, forcing in a run. He then threw a wild pitch and Krekel came into score.

The city team had struck first in the contest, scoring two runs in the opening stanza.

Harris and White greeted Prieto with singles to open the inning, although neither ball was hit well. A throwing error and a perfect sacrifice to the right side by Falcon second baseman Ed Gersich brought in the two runs.

Left fielder Steve Edwards was the only other Cub besides Prieto to have two hits. Harris and White, two excellent outfield prospects, led the winners with three hits apiece.

Tri-Valley, now 1-2 in NCBA action, will meet I.O.F. again at 7:30 tomorrow night at Graham. That game will be a practice tilt.

Galaxy, Dublin post wins

The Dublin Valley A's and Galaxy Records Cardinals took two out of three games over the weekend in Big League Play.

On Saturday, the A's nipped the San Ramon Vikings, 6-5, as Mike Tye singled and doubled. Barry Long, Mark Smith and Larry Walters all singled for the A's, while Bret Cary picked up the win by fanning nine and walking only one. Mitch Rascano was the losing pitcher.

Sunday, the A's split a doubleheader with the Newark Cougars. In the first game, Barry Long struck out eight batters and allowed only six hits, but the A's were beaten, 2-1. Bret Cary, Tye, Smith and Kent Walters had the four A's hits.

In the second game, the A's rebounded from a 7-0 deficit to overtake the Cougars, 9-7. Mike Dougherty, Long, Tim Nelson and Larry Walters all tripled for Dublin. Curt White picked up the win.

Galaxy Records, meanwhile, split a doubleheader on Sunday and won on Saturday.

Galaxy knocked off the Dublin Sporting Goods Cubs, 9-5, behind Dennis Lee's perfect suicide squeeze bunt. Galaxy scored eight times in the final inning to take the win.

Sunday, Galaxy won the first game, 5-1, over the Newark American Cardinals. Lefty Steve Belecky's brilliant pitching effort was the difference. Kurt Hall singled and tripled, while Glen Hill and Pat Geck also had two hits each for the winners. Pete Negron turned in the defensive effort of the game on a fine play in center-field.

In game number two, Newark jumped out to a 9-4 lead and held on to win 13-7. Rick Bordsley reached base three times while Steve Giannini had a pair of hits for Galaxy. John Harris ripped a bases-loaded triple, while Glen Hill pitched excellent ball in relief of losers Les Henry.

The Cardinals are now 2-4 in District 57 Big League competition.

Riewerts three-hits World Airways, 14-1

The familiar phrase reads, "there's no place like home." For World Airways, home is a strange place.

For the second time in two home games, Livermore's Connie Mack team got blasted on its own field, this time a 14-1 spanking from San Leandro's Strehle Painting.

The loss was the fourth consecutive for World Airways, whose league slate now stands at 1-4. They take a two-week break from league games before facing tough Oakland, who swept a doubleheader from Berkovich.

"There's no easy pickin' in this league," Airways coach Dennis Berger commented. "I'd have to say, though, that this kid is the best pitcher we've faced all year long."

Southpaw Tom Riewerts fanned 18 World Airways batters enroute to a three-hitter, losing his shutout on a sacrifice fly in the ninth inning. Riewerts actually rode a no-hitter for five innings before Rich Reinhardt sliced a leadoff double up the alley in left-center in the sixth inning.

San Leandro jumped off to a 3-0 lead in the first inning, keyed by Mark Lagrange's RBI triple and Randy LaRocca's two-RBI double.

Lagrange had the hot bat all afternoon, ripping four hits including a home run and three RBIs. His homer led off the third inning, while his single in the fourth inning made it 6-0.

The winners added two more runs in the fifth inning, knocking starting pitcher Bob Parness from the mound. Kell Conrad came in to pitch the final 4½ innings, giving up six more runs, only four of them earned.

Steve Maral's three-run homer in the ninth inning closed the Strehle scoring. Maral had three hits on the day, as the San Leandro team managed 20 base hits all totaled.

"Every mistake cost us a run," lamented Berger. World Airways committed five errors, all of them coming in innings where San Leandro scored.

"Last year we started out the same way," Berger said of Livermore's slow start. "And we came around in the second half." Berger is hopeful the bats of Rich Palmer, Bill Jespersen, and Dan Wood, all of whom went hitless yesterday, will hit against Oakland.

Thursday night Livermore faces Mitchell's of Hayward, a Senior Babe Ruth team, at Granada High.
